Help others jump the hurdles of dyslexia by running or walking in the Children's Dyslexia Center of Rhode Island's 12th Annual Race by the Bay. The beautiful, flat course bordering Narragansett Bay is sanctioned by USA Track & Field.

About 17% of people have dyslexia, and they have it their entire lives. Dyslexia is a neurobiological language disability that makes reading and writing unexpectedly difficult. It also affects academic achievement, self-esteem, social life, and occupational options. Society suffers when people with dyslexia cannot achieve their full potential.

With your help, the Children's Dyslexia Center of Rhode Island provides life-changing, effective, difficult to find, Orton-Gillingham tutoring to children with dyslexia. The Center also provides graduate level training for qualified adults who desire to help children who have dyslexia. Step by step, we do make a difference.

GOOD CHEER

To comfort our distressed worthy brethren is a duty incumbent upon all Masons. Please take a moment to send a note or card to give encouragement and cheer.
